

Wednesday 23rd September

Jamie was frightened because bombs dropped down into the from above the deadly hail stones. Nervously peering into the distance, he realised there was nowhere to go. What he hid under some planks of wood, bullets (co cocta) past him. He heard the inside the buildings he heard horrifying screams, the sound of shouting behind him and was so scared he had to run somewhere safer. Although Jamie whiter and whiter he still was eager to stay safe. Suddenly out of nowhere... years down past lie in a ditch (running) then he got scared if (frowned or being noticed). Jamie poked his head out and saw a corner of turf in unhooked to the back of one leg. Because he was scared he thought this could be his chance to escape. Patiently waiting the bullets finally stopped. Then ran to the right of that moment he had the chance to run to the top. Jamie said to himself: "this is up and down away from the end...!"

Rapidly

WA I * Some wonderful sentence openers

* Some great vocabulary used!
* Some well used punctuation.
⑤ popped

Keep varying your sentences like this, Sean. Your writing has improved so much because of this.